

LISA LAMPANELLI

Lisa Lampanelli is Comedy's Lovable Queen of Mean. Heralded as "more than a standup -- a standout," by comedy legend Jim Carrey, Lampanelli is a cross between Don Rickles, Archie Bunker, and a vial of estrogen. She has won accolades from The King of All Media Howard Stern, who called her "a true original and a brilliant comedy mind who'll steal the show every time."

This equal opportunity offender is a regular on late night television, and a frequent guest and guest host on Howard Stern's Sirius satellite radio shows. She joined the ranks of comedy greats with her one-hour HBO comedy special, "Long Live the Queen," and will star in her next one-hour comedy special later this year for Comedy Central. In addition, her first autobiography, Chocolate, Please: My Adventures in Food, Fat and Freaks, will be available in paperback on September 14, 2010. Known for saying things that most people are afraid to think, Lisa Lampanelli's raunchy, gut-busting performances are wildly popular at theaters across the U.S. and Canada.

Lisa's rise to the top of the comedy food chain began in 2002 when she was the only female comedian invited to skewer Chevy Chase on the NY Friars Club Roast on Comedy Central. She soon became known as the "Queen of the Roast", going on to skewer such names as Pamela Anderson, Jeff Foxworthy, William Shatner and Flava Flav. Because of her success as a roaster, in 2009 Lisa was asked to be Roastmaster for the highly rated Comedy Central roast of friend and fellow comic, Larry the Cable Guy.

One of the few white comedians to perform on BET's "Comic View," and the "Wendy William Show," Lisa has clearly cemented her huge crossover appeal. Lisa went on to appear on Comedy Central's "Last Laugh 2005" and her one-hour special that year, "Take It Like a Man," was a hit with the comedy network yet again. The CD and the DVD of the same name hit #6 on the comedy charts. Then, in January 2007, Lisa's second one-hour special, "Dirty Girl," debuted on Comedy Central and Warner Bros. Records, and reached #4 on the charts. Soon thereafter, "Dirty Girl" was nominated for a Grammy Award for 2007's Best Comedy Album of the Year.

On the feature film side, Lisa appeared in "Larry the Cable Guy: Health Inspector" and had a featured role in "Delta Farce," opposite Bill Engvall, Larry the Cable Guy, and D.J. Quall. She also starred in the feature film, "The Aristocrats" and, most recently, played a more maternal version of herself in the Owen Wilson vehicle, "Drillbit Taylor."

On a continuous ride to comedic stardom, Lisa has also taped several specials for VH1, MTV, and CMT, and was recently a presenter on the Bravo's "A List Awards" and the "NewNowNext Awards" on Logo.

She currently resides in New York.

QUOTES:

King of All Media, Howard Stern: "L.L.! Lana Lang, Lois Lane, Lex Luthor, and now the greatest of them all -- Lisa Lampanelli. She's the one person who will be invited to a roast and destroy everything in her path and leave you wondering who could follow her. Lisa will steal the show every time, whether it's on my radio program or on any stage anywhere doing stand up. And don't forget -- she has those iconic initials that all great people have in Superman comics -- L.L. I love Lisa and so should you...a true original and a brilliant comedy mind."

Jim Carrey: "If you want to see real racial integration, go to a Lisa Lampanelli show. That's where you'll find people of every color and creed having a good laugh at themselves and each other. No one is safe from prejudice at a Lisa Lampanelli show ... and no one wants to be. By boldly poking fun at everyone, including her chocolate daddy-lovin' self, Lisa releases us from a prison of cultural guilt. She's more than a standup. She's a standout."

Larry the Cable Guy: "I love Lisa! Not only is she offstage one of the sweetest girls I've ever met but onstage she turns into Don Rickles, only with more hair and not as shapely. Nobody gets bigger laughs than Lisa. Lisa is bringing to theatres across the country something Americans have seem to have lost -- a sense of humor and the ability to laugh at themselves. She's an unbelievably great comedian."

Carlos Mencia: "Every generation has a female comic that destroys the conventional wisdom that only men can be raunchy and funny. Lisa Lampanelli is this generation's choice."

Lenny Bruce biographer, Ronald Collins: "Lisa Lampanelli is a comedian with an independent and irreverent streak akin to that of Lenny Bruce. Her robust comedy, like Bruce's, takes no prisoners — and that's just how it should be."

Sally Jessy Raphael: "Lisa is one of the funniest persons alive!"

Doug Stanhope: "Lisa Lampanelli is the Secretary of Comedy. She can stereotype people at a rate of 120 a minute with only one typo."

The New York Times: "Queen of Mean. An equal-opportunity offender."

Time Out New York: "Lampanelli has one of the meanest acts out there — and people love it."

The New York Daily News: "A hilarious lady! There hasn't been a standing-O in this part of Brooklyn since Walter O'Malley died."

NY Friars Club newsletter: "Friar Lampanelli has been shocking audiences across this great nation of ours with her irreverent humor and politically incorrect jokes for the last five years. If Don Rickles had breasts and PMS, this is the woman he'd be."

Newsday: "Stern as a dominatrix."

Albany mother of three during radio call-in: "Lisa Lampanelli is the reason we have school shootings!"
